Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Saturday 21 Aug 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Rain, heavy in places, moving east, followed by heavy showers.

Today:
Outbreaks of rain, heavy at times, moving north and east across many areas. Then turning brighter across southern, western and later some central parts, but with showers, heavy and thundery in places.

Tonight:
Heavy rain or showers becoming restricted to parts of northern and eastern England, whilst dying out elsewhere. Mist and low cloud in the north and east.

Sunday:
Rain in the east clearing, with cloud breaking to allow sunny intervals for most areas. Some showers developing, but many southwestern areas remaining dry. Warm in the sunshine.

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
A mainly fine and dry spell, though a few light showers are likely in places. Warm, perhaps very warm for some western areas, otherwise close to normal.
